
To awaken from the illusion of this world
Opens one's mind to the possibility of an Existence beyond the perception of the Present moment, the true scope of what lies
Beyond the comprehension of the physical realm
Merely a fragment of what exists beyond
The veil of shadows: though unless one is willing To confront the unknown with a sense of conviction
One's numerous attempts at unraveling the elusive
Nature of truth, will only serve to disrupt the mind's Inner balance: as one seeks to understand what Lies beyond the limits of society's deceptive mirage
The illusion of its spell slowly begins to dissolve
Revealing the true nature of what lies beneath
Its hollow façade: the splintered aspects of a social Construct, in the late stages of terminal decline.
